Dear

I am currently seeking an executive manufacturing or supply chain management position in an innovative enterprise.

Professional engineer with more than 22 years of experience, I worked in large, small and start-up high-tech businesses covering the manufacturing and the supply chain for the complete products, specifically with more than 15 years for Mitel Semiconductors, 12 years of which were in management roles.

I combine more than 6 years of experience as Vice President either in operations or in industrial engineering services. I managed improvement focus team projects in all Mitel Businesses (6) located in 3 countries (Canada, Sweden and United Kingdom) and, more importantly, I was a key player in teams charged with integrating new businesses (Growth from $40M to $700M). I lived in those 3 countries, thus allowing me to understand and appreciate culture differences and helping to develop in me the ability to easily adapt to changing environments and situations. I designed and lead strategic, tactical and operational plans at all Mitel businesses, at 2 start-ups, and at a consultant company and at Roctest Group (2 businesses).

My personality is that of a team player and my management style is team oriented. At the same time, my strengths in analysis, strategic planning and forward thinking attitude create in me the ideal candidate for a key executive and strategic role within any organization.

Should any of your current opportunities call for an effective management professional with a wide range of skills and capabilities, please contact me.

I look forward to having the opportunity to discuss my candidacy with you in greater detail.

Best regards,

René Habel, P. Eng.
